American Legion officials met their ship, her masts dressed with flags, at quarantine and escorted the visitors to the battery where they were greeted by Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, commander of the Atlantic fleet, and Major General C. S. Hale, commander of the Second Corps area.

After municipal officials had welcomed them at the City Hall, the delegation paraded up Fifth avenue in automobiles and then left for Washington on a special train accompanied by the

Every man in the delegation wore decorations on his chest and each bore wounds received in battle. There were six French veterans, five Britishers, three Belgians, three Serbians, three Zecho-Slovakians, two Rumanians and

Things You'll Love to Make

Here is a very simple and at the same time ornamental way of keeping the ends of your little daughter's hair Cut the ends any shape you want, then dip them into melted scaling way. Place ribbons and sashes from fraying out small pieces in a shallow tin over a small flame. When the wax is well melted dip the ribbon into it. Use wax of the same color as the ribbon or of a contrasting shade. It is surprising what wonderful effects can be given to a plain ribbon with the use of melted sealing wax. FLORA.

Mind that you keep unto yourself the knowledge of your husband's short-

For the vanity of man is like unto a guilty conscience.

Does not man rejoice in his superiority? Though he be destined to conquer the world with his fists, yet when shrouded by darkness he tries to cast chains about the neck of woman. As the light of day chases away the lure of romance, so the disclosure of iure of romance, so the disclosure of man's shortcomings lessens his regard for woman. Even more perilous than the banama peel upon the sidewalk is the revealing eye of the keen observer.

For as a Greek god poses before his worshiners, so a bushand loves to strut worshipers, so a husband loves to strut before the eyes of his beloved. Not more guarded than a woman's age is a husband's imperfections.

Yet how blind is man! For where is the wife who loves a perfect husband? Great is her power if she be exceeding wise and guard well her secret. Copyright, 1988, by Public Lodger Compa

Here is an extraordinary chance to choose luxurious rugs for homes and offices at a third to almost half less than today's standard prices.

It's a chance for which we have been seeking twelve months. Last year we were able to offer such a lot of chenille rugs and they sold out in a single day. These are even better! Majority of them are perfectly plain in weave and finished with a band border of slightly darker tone or contrasting color. Some are entirely plain without borders. Some are mottled without borders.

They are all heavy, firm rugs which feel luxuriously soft and deep to the tread. They are reversible so that they can be turned over to equalize the wear-and they are remarkably serviceable. Each is securely bound.

Seven fashionable colors, including taupe, French gray, brown, tan, green, blue and rose.

These are all the rugs that the mill had. To prevent disappointment we print the quantities of the larger sizes.

In fact, they are graceful, well-cut two- and three-button suits with very slightly fitted coats such as many business men, both young and o'der, prefer.
